Press Release December 31, 2005

Written by Officer Michael Shaw, Webster Police Department

On December 30, 2005 at approximately 2:30 pm, the Webster Police Department had received a call from the Massachusetts State Police Call center, stating that they had received a cellular phone call that had been cut short. The phone call sounded like a domestic argument that was occurring at 448 School Street, however there was a language barrier and the call had been terminated prematurely.

Officers Leonard Gevry and Brian Barnes responded to the initial call for service. Webster Police Dispatcher Gregory Lynskey began receiving calls from other persons as well. At his time all available unit began responding to the area. Officer Barnes met with the victim, who reported that, during the course of an argument with her husband, he had assaulted her and thrown her out of a moving car. Prior to her being thrown out of the car, the victim had grabbed the vehicle's license plate. Officer Barnes called this in and then a broadcast was given out to surrounding towns, as well as the Massachusetts State Police. The suspect was Pierre Delille (DOB 12/27/75) 448 School Street.

Trooper Kevin Kennedy of the Massachusetts State Police located and stopped the vehicle on 290 in Worcester. Officer Bryan Bates responded to his location and took Delille into custody. He was then transported back to the Webster Police Department where he was booked on the following charges:

- Domestic assault and battery
- Larceny over $250.00
- Assault and Battery with a Dangerous weapon
- Assault with intent to murder

The victim was taken by ambulance to Hubbard Regional Hospital for her injuries. An emergency restraining order was issued on behalf of the victim against Delille.

Delille was released on $540.00 cash bail.
