Sergeant Kelley,

On June 3, 2006 you responded to a domestic situation in which it was reported that a man was strangling his spouse. Upon arrival you immediately took command of the situation, reacting to this potentially tragic call for service with the highest degree of professionalism.

Faced with life threatening decisions, you demonstrated control and focus under extreme pressure. The decisions that you made under these circumstances were accurate and correct. You clearly exhibited the leadership skills and abilities that you posses.

Sergeant Kelley, you are a credit to the Webster Police Department, and I wish to commend you for your dedication and diligence to duty.

Again, thank you for your efforts and be assured that a copy of this letter will be placed in your personnel file.

Respectfully,

Timothy J. Bent
